

Our Town

What began as a dream, conceived in the mind of Walt Disney, became a reality in 1994. That's when the Town of Celebration was founded on Disney-owned land. Walt Disney imagined a place where people could live, work, and play, and The Walt Disney Company created that place some forty years later. This is the town that our class calls home and the pages that follow chronicle the dream that became a reality.

Welcome to Celebration, Florida!

Did You Know...

Brett Herrington was the first Town Manager.

Photo Gallery

(Click on an image for a larger image, these images are the property of the Celebration History Center.)

This page was last updated on: 10 April 2008

Credits

